

Expanding learning and supports for an equitable recovery

This is Afterschool in South Dakota

 Afterschool Alliance April 2021

In South Dakota, afterschool programs provide expanded learning opportunities to 19,722 students and are a lifeline for working families. In South Dakota, 86% of parents report that all young people deserve access to quality afterschool and summer programs. Yet, too many kids in South Dakota are being left out. In fact, for every child in an afterschool program, 2 more would participate if a program were available.

Helping young people learn, grow, and thrive

Students in afterschool programs in South Dakota are:

-  Interacting with peers and building social skills 99%
-  Getting homework help 74%
-  Taking part in physical activities 91%

A 2015 report on 21st CCLC programs in South Dakota by the South Dakota Department of Education found that, based on program surveys, participation in programs led to positive changes in students' social behavior, attitudes toward school and community, and academic performance. A 2018 evaluation of 21st CCLC programs conducted by the Black Hills Knowledge Network found that 82% of sites reported "proficient" or "exemplary" communication with families, 63% reported "proficient" or "exemplary" opportunities for youth choice, and 80% reported offering "proficient" or "exemplary" food and nutrition programming (including 43% of sites not only providing healthy food options, but giving students the opportunity to learn about healthy eating habits).

Parents in South Dakota agree that afterschool programs:

-  Provide opportunities to build life skills 83%
-  Get kids excited about learning 69%
-  Reduce the likelihood that youth will use drugs or engage in other risky behaviors 75%

Call and response: Afterschool programs stepping up during the pandemic

From the outset of the pandemic, afterschool programs have adapted and expanded their services to best meet the needs of the children and families they serve. The Boys & Girls Clubs of the Sioux Empire partnered with the Empower Church Network and nonprofits to help fill the gap when the pandemic left families with fewer resources. Using borrowed space from the former Taco John's building, they stored and supplied fresh fruits, vegetables, take-home activities, and more. More than 66,000 snacks and meals made it to the children in their community who needed it most.

A 2021 national survey of afterschool providers finds programs continue to provide:

Academic enrichment	94%
Time to interact with peers	86%
Physical activity	81%
Snacks or meals	77%
Check-ins with student and families	32%
In-person services during virtual school days*	24%

Looking toward the summer, 79% of providers will be offering summer programming.

Among program providers that report that they are offering in-person services.*

21st Century Community Learning Centers

21st Century Community Learning Centers (21st CCLC) are local before-school, afterschool, and summer learning programs that serve students attending high-poverty, low-performing schools, engaging students in hands-on learning activities aimed at supporting their academic growth. They provide a variety of enrichment activities to complement school-day learning and offer educational and support services to the families of participating children.

In South Dakota, 6,500 children in 51 communities take part in a Community Learning Center.

21st CCLC grants are the only dedicated federal funding source that support local communities' afterschool and summer programs. Demand for programs is so great in South Dakota that 3 out of every 5 applications cannot be funded.

The 2020 Department of Education annual performance report of 21st CCLC found that among regular participants:

Nearly half improved their math (48%) and English grades (48%)

69% improved homework completion and class participation

62% improved their behavior

A lifeline for working families

A national survey of parents in the fall of 2020 found that as the pandemic continued to disrupt school schedules, most parents were concerned about their child's social and emotional well-being and connection to peers, as well as their own ability to continue to provide learning support and/or care for their child as virtual school and distance learning extends into 2021.

Based on the 2020 America After 3PM household survey, parents in South Dakota agree that afterschool programs:

- Build positive relationships between children and adults 77%
- Keep kids safe and out of trouble 70%
- Help working parents keep their jobs 83%
- Provide working parents peace of mind 87%

A smart investment

Research spanning several states shows that every $1 invested in afterschool programs saves at least $3 by:

- 1 Increasing kids' earning potential
- 2 Improving kids' performance at school
- 3 Reducing crime and juvenile delinquency

Additionally, Community Learning Centers leverage diverse partners to meet community needs. A typical program receives $67,000 from partners to supplement its federal funding. Nationwide, partner contributions totaled more than $1 billion between 2006 and 2010.
