Afterschool Alliance Names Lincoln CLC's Krannawitter a 2008/2009 'Afterschool Ambassador'

Krannawitter Will Work in Nebraska and Nationally to Expand Afterschool

Washington, DC – The Afterschool Alliance today announced that Dayna Krannawitter, site supervisor for the Arnold Community Learning Center in Lincoln, has been selected as a 2008/2009 Afterschool Ambassador. She is one of 18 local leaders from 15 states selected for the honor, and one of just three people nationwide who will serve a second term this year. Each Ambassador will continue directing or supporting a local afterschool program while also serving a one-year Afterschool Ambassador term organizing public events, communicating with policy makers, and building support for afterschool programs.

“Afterschool programs keep children safe, inspire them to learn, and help working families,” said Afterschool Alliance Executive Director Jodi Grant. “Americans strongly support afterschool programs but there aren’t nearly enough to meet the need, and rising fuel prices and tight budgets at all levels of government are putting financial pressure on the programs we have. In her work as an Afterschool Ambassador, Dayna will bring energy and talent to the task of spreading the word about the need to make afterschool programs available to all families that need them. I look forward to working with her to build support for afterschool among parents, business and community leaders, lawmakers, and the media. We are proud to have Dayna on our team.”

The Arnold Community Learning Center is one of 23 centers that are part of the Lincoln Community Learning Centers initiative. Krannawitter is employed by the Lincoln Housing Authority and coordinates multiple partnerships that work within the school to provide quality before- and after-school programs that annually serve more than 350 school-age youth and their families. She has been with the Lincoln Housing Authority for more than five years.

Each Ambassador will plan a major event for Lights On Afterschool, the Afterschool Alliance’s October 16 nationwide rally for afterschool. Despite overwhelming public support, and an agreement embodied in the No Child Left Behind Act to steadily increase federal funding, federal support for the 21st Century Community Learning Centers initiative – the principal federal funding stream for afterschool programs – has lagged far behind the need. The No Child Left Behind Act authorized $2.5 billion for afterschool this year, but funding is at less than half that level. Congress has not yet completed work on the education budget for Fiscal Year 2009.

The 2008-2009 Afterschool Ambassadors are:

- CA, San Francisco: Jenny Arcilla-Gonzalez, Chinatown Beacon Center.

This year's Lights On Afterschool events will mark the end of a year-long celebration of the 10th anniversary of the 21st Century Community Learning Centers initiative. Last year, a million people rallied at 7,500 Lights On events to show their support for afterschool programs.

Afterschool programs offer young people safe, enriching, fun and engaging places to spend their afternoons. Youth in afterschool programs have been shown to perform better in school and have greater expectations for the future, while children who are unsupervised in the afternoons are at greater risk of becoming involved with crime, substance abuse and teenage pregnancy. A groundbreaking study conducted for the Afterschool Alliance in 2004 (with funding from the J.C. Penney Co., Inc.) concluded that 14.3 million latchkey children have no adult supervision in the afternoons and that the parents of 15.3 million children would send their child to an afterschool program if one were available.
