Afterschool Alliance Names Memphis Afterschool Advocate One of Just 18 ‘Afterschool Ambassadors’ from Across Nation

Sonja Currie Will Work in Tennessee and Nationally to Expand Afterschool

Washington, DC – The Afterschool Alliance today announced the selection of Sonja Currie, Director of Grants & Initiatives of Memphis Leadership Foundation to serve as a 2010-2011 Afterschool Ambassador. Currie is one of just 18 local leaders from 16 states selected for the honor this year. Each Ambassador will continue directing or supporting a local afterschool program while also serving a one-year Afterschool Ambassador term organizing public events, communicating with policy makers, and building support for afterschool programs.

“Quality afterschool programs keep kids safe, inspire them to learn, and help working families,” said Afterschool Alliance Executive Director Jodi Grant. “Americans strongly support afterschool programs, but across the nation many of the programs that working families rely on are being threatened because of budget cuts or efforts to divert afterschool funds to other programs. We need to spread the word about the urgent need to make afterschool programs available to all children who need them. Sonja will bring great energy and talent to that challenge in her role as an Afterschool Ambassador. I look forward to working with her to build even stronger support for afterschool among parents, business and community leaders, lawmakers and others. We are proud to have Sonja on our team.”

“I’m thrilled to have this wonderful opportunity to help secure the future of afterschool programs for kids and families in our community, and across the state and nation,” said Currie. “Afterschool programs are critical to student success and the economic security of working families. I am excited about this opportunity to share how vital afterschool programs are to students, parents and communities, and I look forward to helping expand support for them.”

The Memphis Leadership Foundation (MLF) is a faith-based nonprofit organization whose purpose is to empower leaders and develop programs that serve under-resourced people and communities in five key areas – youth, affordable housing, families and children, leadership development and community and economic development. MLF provides hundreds of youth daily with safe, quality afterschool programs in their respective neighborhoods and across the city. Currie has been working with the Memphis Leadership Foundation for the past five years.

Each Ambassador will organize a major event for Lights On Afterschool, the Afterschool Alliance’s 11th annual national rally for afterschool, to be held on October 21 this year. Last year, a million people participated in some 7,500 Lights On Afterschool events across the United States and at U.S. military bases worldwide. Afterschool programs are under intense pressure this year, with the Senate preparing to consider legislation that would divert some of the already limited afterschool funds to other programs. At Lights On Afterschool rallies this year, participants will sign a parents' petition calling on Congress not to divert or deny afterschool funding.
