Afterschool Alliance Names Child Center's of NY's Ghosh One of Just 20 'Afterschool Ambassadors' from Across Nation

Deepmalya Ghosh Will Work in New York and Nationally to Expand Afterschool

Washington, DC – The Afterschool Alliance today announced that Deepmalya Ghosh, Director of Youth Development of the Child Center of NY, has been selected to serve as a 2011-2012 Afterschool Ambassador. He is one of just 20 local leaders from 17 states chosen for the honor this year. Each Ambassador will continue directing or supporting a local afterschool program while also serving a one-year Afterschool Ambassador term organizing public events, communicating with policy makers, and building support for afterschool programs. Mr. Ghosh's Ambassadorship is sponsored by The Robert Bowne Foundation.

“Quality afterschool programs are invaluable to students, families and communities,” said Afterschool Alliance Executive Director Jodi Grant. “These programs keep kids safe, help working families and inspire students to learn. But in Washington, D.C. and all across the country, the afterschool programs that families rely on are being threatened by budget cuts and efforts to divert afterschool funds to other programs. We need to spread the word about the urgent need to make opportunities to attend afterschool programs available to all children who need them. Deep will bring great skill and energy to that work in his role as an Afterschool Ambassador. I look forward to working with him to build even stronger support for afterschool programs among parents, business and community leaders, lawmakers and others.”

“I am delighted to have this chance to help increase support for afterschool programs, which give students opportunities to explore their interests and give parents the security that comes with knowing that their children are safe and supervised, with engaging, educational activities after the school day ends,” said Ghosh. “Afterschool programs are critical to students' success in school, to families trying to surviving in this recession, and to America's workforce in the future. We need to strengthen the afterschool programs we have and ensure that there is a program for every child who needs one.”

The Child Center of NY is a 58-year-old non-profit organization with a mission to help at-risk children and youth to succeed in life. The Center's highly regarded afterschool, youth development programs reach more than 8,000 children, youth and families a year. It has a long track record of promoting the broad goals of helping children achieve literacy, self-reliance, and well-being in both their individual lives and as part of their communities. Ghosh has worked with the Child Center of NY for nearly 19 years.

Each Ambassador will organize a major event for Lights On Afterschool, the Afterschool Alliance's 12th annual national rally for afterschool, to be held on October 20 this year. Last year, a million people participated in some 7,500 Lights On Afterschool events across the United States and at U.S. military bases worldwide. Afterschool programs are under intense pressure this year, with the Senate considering legislation that would divert some of the already limited afterschool funds to other programs.
