Cobb County's Girls Inc. CEO Chosen to Be One of Just 18 'Afterschool Ambassadors' in the Nation This Year

Tiffany Collie-Bailey Will Work in Georgia to Raise Awareness About and Increase Access to Afterschool and Summer Learning Programs

Washington, DC – The Afterschool Alliance announced today that Tiffany Collie-Bailey, Chief Executive Officer at Girls Inc. of Greater Atlanta, has been selected to serve as an Afterschool Ambassador for the Afterschool Alliance in 2020-2021. She is one of just 18 leaders in the United States chosen for the honor this year. Afterschool Ambassadors continue their work at local afterschool programs while serving the one-year Afterschool Ambassador term, organizing public events, communicating with policy makers and community leaders, and in other ways increasing awareness and support for afterschool and summer learning programs.

“We are so pleased that Tiffany Collie-Bailey will serve as an Afterschool Ambassador this year,” said Afterschool Alliance Executive Director Jodi Grant. “With the pandemic increasing the need for quality afterschool and summer learning programs so dramatically, we need strong advocates who have their fingers on the pulse of their communities. Tiffany will do a terrific job mobilizing community and business leaders, parents, policy makers, educators and others to send the message that afterschool programs are vital to our recovery from COVID-19. Afterschool programs keep kids safe, inspire them to learn, and give families peace of mind that their children are safe, learning, and constructively engaged while parents are at work or looking for jobs.”

“I am delighted to work with the Afterschool Alliance to increase support for afterschool programs,” said Collie-Bailey. “It’s a tremendously important issue in my community and state. In normal times, afterschool programs help young people succeed in school and in life, and support working families throughout Georgia. These days, we need to help children with academic, social and emotional needs created by the pandemic and support efforts to rebuild our economy. That makes these programs even more essential. I look forward to helping build support for the out-of-school-time opportunities all students need, now and over time.”

Girls Inc. of Greater Atlanta has provided comprehensive programming for over 44 years throughout the metro-Atlanta area to over 115,000 girls with low to moderate incomes. Through its programming it promotes academic achievement, healthy lifestyles, and life skills development through tutoring, mentorship and partnerships. Its mission is to inspire all girls to be strong (healthy lifestyles), smart (academic achievement, career and secondary education exploration) and bold (independence and self-determination).

Each Ambassador will organize a major event for Lights On Afterschool, the Afterschool Alliance's annual rally for afterschool, which will include events on or around Thursday, October 28, 2021.

The 2020-2021 Afterschool Ambassadors are:

The America After 3PM household survey of more than 30,000 families, commissioned by the Afterschool Alliance and released this month, finds that unmet demand for afterschool programs has reached an all-time high. For every child in an afterschool program in America today, three more are waiting to get in. The study finds significant inequities, with Black and Latinx children disproportionately without afterschool opportunities. Ninety-four percent of parents of afterschool students say they are satisfied with their child's program.

A large and powerful body of evidence demonstrates improvements in grades, school attendance, behavior and more among children who participate in afterschool programs. Researchers have also found that students in afterschool programs are more engaged in school and excited about learning and develop critical work and life skills such as problem solving, teamwork, and communications.
