

Afterschool Ambassador Program: Legacy of Leadership

NEWS RELEASE
September 25, 2017

CONTACT: Matthew Freeman, 202.371.1999
Jennifer Pettyjohn 865.244.6073

Boys & Girls Clubs of the Clinch Valley's CEO, Jennifer Pettyjohn, Selected as One of Just 15 'Afterschool Ambassadors' in Country This Year

Pettyjohn Will Work in Tennessee, and Nationally, to Increase Students' Access to Afterschool

Washington, DC – The Afterschool Alliance announced today that Jennifer Pettyjohn, CEO at the Boys & Girls Clubs of the Clinch Valley, headquartered in Oak Ridge, Tenn., has been selected to serve as a 2017-2018 Afterschool Ambassador. She is one of just 15 leaders from across the nation chosen for the honor this year. Each Afterschool Ambassador will continue directing or supporting a local afterschool program while also serving a one-year Afterschool Ambassador term, organizing public events, communicating with policy makers and in other ways increasing support for afterschool and summer learning programs.

“We’re delighted that Jennifer will serve as an Afterschool Ambassador this year,” said Afterschool Alliance Executive Director Jodi Grant. “She is exactly the kind of powerful champion we need at this time when federal funding for quality afterschool and summer learning programs is at risk. I know she will mobilize business, community and faith leaders, parents, educators and others to convince lawmakers to secure resources for the afterschool programs that keep kids safe, inspire them to learn and help working families. These programs offer hands-on learning opportunities, homework help, mentors, science and technology, healthy snacks and meals, sports and fitness, arts programming, college and job prep, and much more. We’re facing very real challenges this year, and more than a million students across the country could lose their afterschool programs. We will work together to stave off that threat.”

“I am thrilled to join in the Afterschool Alliance’s work to build support for afterschool programs,” said Pettyjohn. “In my 20 years working in the non-profit field, I’ve seen up close the many ways afterschool programs help students, both as an extension their school day and family support system. They are given opportunities to learn and discover in ways that are FUN! Parents are given the peace of mind that comes with knowing their children are safe, fed and engaged, so they can work as contributing members of our communities. I look forward to raising awareness and support for the out-of-school-time opportunities all students need.”

Boys & Girls Clubs of the Clinch Valley annually serves more than 1,000 local youth through afterschool, athletic and summer programming at its two Clubs, in Oak Ridge and Harriman. Programming encourages Health & Life Skills, Character & Leadership Development and Education & Career Development through programs in financial awareness, nutrition and physical health and homework/tutoring time. In addition, community partnerships have provided the following at no additional cost to members: dental sealants, physicals, swim lessons, meals, school supplies, clothing and tutoring.

Each Ambassador will organize a major event for Lights On Afterschool, as part of the Afterschool Alliance's annual rally for afterschool. Last year, 1 million people participated in some 7,500 Lights On Afterschool events across the United States and at U.S. military bases worldwide. Follow @BGCsCinchValley on Facebook for local event dates.

The 2017-2018 Afterschool Ambassadors are:

- Arkansas: Ben Rediske, Program Director at Camp War Eagle in Springdale;
- Florida (2): Justin Pinn, Director of Auxiliary Programming at Breakthrough Miami and Sierra Newhouse-Ragoonanan, Project Coordinator at After-School All-Stars in Orlando;
- Kansas: Tony Yungeberg, Director of Valley Heights Community Education in Waterville;
- Kentucky: Tom Haggard, Program Director at Covington Independent Public Schools in Covington;
- Louisiana: Samuel Trevathan, Education Director at Kids Orchestra in Baton Rouge;
- Maryland: Terrell Sample, 21st Century Community Coordinator at Dorchester County Public Schools in Cambridge;
- Michigan: Rebecca Idzikowski, SPARKS Director at Clare-Gladwin RESD in Clare;
- Montana: Veronica Willetto, Site Coordinator at Pryor Public Schools 21st CCLC in Pryor;
- Nevada: Matt Sampson, Director of Operations at the Boys & Girls Clubs of Western Nevada in Carson City;
- New Jersey: David Haggerty, Director at the Morristown Neighborhood House in Morristown;
- North Dakota: Robin Nelson, Chief Executive Officer at the Boys & Girls Club of the Red River Valley in Fargo;
- Oklahoma: Danielle Hovenga, Director of the True Blue Neighbor's Initiative at The University of Tulsa in Tulsa;
- Tennessee: Jennifer Pettyjohn, Chief Executive Officer at the Boys & Girls Clubs of the Clinch Valley in Knoxville; and
- Washington: Dorinda Belcher, Project Director K-12 for the White Salmon Valley School District in White Salmon.

The America After 3PM household survey of more than 30,000 families, commissioned by the Afterschool Alliance, found that participation in afterschool programs has increased to 10.2 million students nationwide, up from 6.5 million in 2004. But the unmet demand for afterschool programs has increased as well. Today, for every child in an afterschool program, there are two more whose parents say they would participate, if a program were available. Unmet demand is especially high in rural communities and communities of concentrated poverty. One in five students in the United States today is unsupervised after the school day ends.

A large and growing body of evidence demonstrates improvements in attendance, behavior, academic achievement and more among children in afterschool programs. Researchers have also found that afterschool programs encourage increased parental involvement – an important building block for student success.

###

The Afterschool Alliance is a nonprofit public awareness and advocacy organization working to ensure that all children and youth have access to quality afterschool programs. More information is available at www.afterschoolalliance.org.

Boys & Girls Clubs of the Clinch Valley enables all young people, especially those who need us most, to reach their full potential as productive, caring, responsible citizens. For more information on our programming and services please call 865-482-4433 or visit www.BGCCV.org.