

Afterschool Ambassador Program: Legacy of Leadership

NEWS RELEASE
September 19, 2017

CONTACT: Matthew Freeman, 202/371-1999
Tony Yungeberg, 785/363-2211

Valley Heights' Yungeberg Selected as One of Just 15 'Afterschool Ambassadors' in Country This Year

Tony Yungeberg Will Work in Kansas, Nationally to Increase Students' Access to Afterschool

Washington, DC – The Afterschool Alliance announced today that Tony Yungeberg, Community Education at the Valley Heights Colts Round-Up, has been selected to serve as a 2017-2018 Afterschool Ambassador. He is one of just 15 leaders from across the nation chosen for the honor this year. Each Afterschool Ambassador will continue directing or supporting a local afterschool program while also serving a one-year Afterschool Ambassador term, organizing public events, communicating with policy makers and in other ways increasing support for afterschool and summer learning programs.

“We’re delighted that Tony will serve as an Afterschool Ambassador this year,” said Afterschool Alliance Executive Director Jodi Grant. “He is exactly the kind of powerful champion we need at this time when federal funding for quality afterschool and summer learning programs is at risk. I know he will mobilize business, community and faith leaders, parents, educators and others to convince lawmakers to secure resources for the afterschool programs that keep kids safe, inspire them to learn and help working families. These programs offer hands-on learning opportunities, homework help, mentors, science and technology, healthy snacks and meals, sports and fitness, arts programming, college and job prep, and much more. We’re facing very real challenges this year, and more than a million students across the country could lose their afterschool programs. We will work together to stave off that threat.”

“I am thrilled to join in the Afterschool Alliance’s work to build support for afterschool programs,” said Yungeberg. “In my six years working in the field, I’ve seen up close the many ways afterschool programs help students to explore their interests and discover their passions, while giving parents the peace of mind that comes with knowing their children are safe and supervised, with opportunities to learn and grow, after the school day ends. I look forward to raising awareness and support for the out-of-school-time opportunities all students need.”

Valley Heights has been serving students and families with quality afterschool programming for 20+ years with much success. On an average Colts Round-Up as well as their summer program, Camp Exploration, serves 80+ students daily when in session. The programs are funded through local and federal funds, including a 21st Century Community Learning Centers grant. These funds allow for students transportation to and from the program as well as access to educational programs and supplies to enrich them in out-of-school time. Some of these programs include VEX robotics, Vernier wind energy, Community service, homework help, physical fitness and health, and character education. In partnership with Cloud County Community College as well as Highland Community College they are introducing the students and their families to career options with programs on Wind Energy, Agri-Science and Drone technology. Because of the grant dollars and funding within the district the afterschool and summer programs have been free of charge to the families for the last several years.

Each Ambassador will organize a major event for Lights On Afterschool, the Afterschool Alliance's annual rally for afterschool, to be held on October 26 this year. Last year, 1 million people participated in some 7,500 Lights On Afterschool events across the United States and at U.S. military bases worldwide.

The 2017-2018 Afterschool Ambassadors are:

- Arkansas: Ben Rediske, Program Director at Camp War Eagle in Springdale;
- Florida (2): Justin Pinn, Director of Auxiliary Programming at Breakthrough Miami and Sierra Newhouse-Ragoonanan, Project Coordinator at After-School All-Stars in Orlando;
- Kansas: Tony Yungeberg, Director of Valley Heights Community Education in Waterville;
- Kentucky: Tom Haggard, Program Director at Covington Independent Public Schools in Covington;
- Louisiana: Samuel Trevathan, Education Director at Kids Orchestra in Baton Rouge;
- Maryland: Terrell Sample, 21st Century Community Coordinator at Dorchester County Public Schools in Cambridge;
- Michigan: Rebecca Idzikowski, SPARKS Director at Clare-Gladwin RESD in Clare;
- Montana: Veronica Willeto, Site Coordinator at Pryor Public Schools 21st CCLC in Pryor;
- Nevada: Matt Sampson, Director of Operations at the Boys & Girls Clubs of Western Nevada in Carson City;
- New Jersey: David Haggerty, Director at the Morristown Neighborhood House in Morristown;
- North Dakota: Robin Nelson, Chief Executive Officer at the Boys & Girls Club of the Red River Valley in Fargo;
- Oklahoma: Danielle Hovenga, Director of the True Blue Neighbor's Initiative at The University of Tulsa in Tulsa;
- Tennessee: Jennifer Pettyjohn, Chief Executive Officer at the Boys & Girls Clubs of the Clinch Valley in Knoxville; and
- Washington: Dorinda Belcher, Project Director K-12 for the White Salmon Valley School District in White Salmon.

The America After 3PM household survey of more than 30,000 families, commissioned by the Afterschool Alliance, found that participation in afterschool programs has increased to 10.2 million students nationwide, up from 6.5 million in 2004. But the unmet demand for afterschool programs has increased as well. Today, for every child in an afterschool program, there are two more whose parents say they would participate, if a program were available. Unmet demand is especially high in rural communities and communities of concentrated poverty. One in five students in the United States today is unsupervised after the school day ends.

A large and growing body of evidence demonstrates improvements in attendance, behavior, academic achievement and more among children in afterschool programs. Researchers have also found that afterschool programs encourage increased parental involvement – an important building block for student success.

###

The Afterschool Alliance is a nonprofit public awareness and advocacy organization working to ensure that all children and youth have access to quality afterschool programs. More information is available at www.afterschoolalliance.org.

Valley Heights afterschool programs are a safe structured place for our community's youth to grow and learn. We strive to offer programming that allows our students to interact and develop social and cognitive skills while improving their character and becoming responsible adults.