Lake County's Trelka Selected as One of Just 17 Afterschool Ambassadors in United States This Year

Taylor Trelka Will Work in Colorado and Nationally to Increase Access to Afterschool and Summer Learning Programs

Washington, DC – The Afterschool Alliance today announced that Taylor Trelka, Out of School Time Director for Project Dream at the Lake County School District, has been selected to serve as an Afterschool Ambassador for the Afterschool Alliance in 2022. She is one of just 17 leaders in the country chosen for the honor this year. Afterschool Ambassadors continue their work with local afterschool programs while serving a one-year Afterschool Ambassador term, organizing public events, communicating with policy makers and community leaders, and in other ways increasing awareness and support for afterschool and summer learning programs.

“We are thrilled that Taylor Trelka will serve as an Afterschool Ambassador this year,” said Afterschool Alliance Executive Director Jodi Grant. “The pandemic has had a profound effect on children and youth, and the afterschool community has a vital role to play in helping everyone recover lost ground. That will require support of all kinds, and we need strong advocates who know their communities to lead the charge. Afterschool programs keep kids safe, inspire them to learn, and help give working families peace of mind. They offer hands-on learning, opportunities to think critically and collaborate, homework help, mentors, science and technology, healthy snacks and meals, sports and fitness, arts programming, college and job prep, and much more – and students need all that more than ever.”

“I am eager to join the Afterschool Alliance in building support for out-of-school time programs,” said Trelka. “Over the last two years, out-of-school-time programs including second-day, afterschool, Fridays, and summer programs have provided critical services to students and families, and we have more work to do as we recover. Our kids have ground to make up – not just in academics, but in their social and emotional development, as well. I’m proud to be part of the afterschool movement and thrilled to have a chance to serve as an Afterschool Ambassador for Colorado.”

During an average year, Project Dream, a 21st Century Community Learning Center, serves over 600 students K-12. Programs run at three different sites in Lake County for all grade levels. When students are in grades K-6, programs provide academic intervention, homework help, enrichment activities such as STEM and art, and year-round outdoor activities through Project

Dream's partnership with Get Outdoors Leadville! All-day Friday programs for grades K-6 include a Spanish Club, a curriculum focused on character development, and activities with partners such as the Lake County Public Library, Get Outdoors Leadville!, and Cloud City Conservation Center. During the summer, the program runs after-camp which is similar to afterschool but takes place after the local summer camp ends for the day.

At the 7-12 level, tutoring runs daily, teachers and admins assign tutoring to students who need extra support. Tutors are teachers and community members with expertise in core subject areas. Students receive one-on-one support in any subject during afterschool tutoring with the goal being to pass all their classes. At least one club runs daily at the high school for students. Clubs include Environmental, Cooking, Gay-Straight Alliance, Coding, Robotics, and Sewing. A partnership with the School Work Alliance Program invites students with career interests in a specific topic to afterschool clubs. Fridays are reserved for students that need to recover credits. The program uses the online Colorado Digital Learning Solutions program so that students might recover credits from classes they have either missed or failed so they may still graduate on time.

Each Ambassador will organize a major event for Lights On Afterschool, the Afterschool Alliance's annual rally for afterschool. Most of the thousands of local Lights On Afterschool events will be on or around Thursday, October 20, 2022.

The 2020 America After 3PM household survey of more than 30,000 families, commissioned by the Afterschool Alliance and conducted before the pandemic, found that unmet demand for afterschool programs has reached an all-time high. For every child in an afterschool program in America today, three more are waiting to get in. The study found significant inequities, with Black and Latinx children disproportionately without afterschool opportunities. Ninety-four percent of parents of afterschool students say they are satisfied with their child's program.

A large and powerful body of evidence demonstrates improvements in grades, school attendance, behavior and more among children who participate in afterschool programs. Researchers have also found that students in afterschool programs are more engaged in school and excited about learning and develop critical work and life skills such as problem solving, teamwork, and communications.
