Shreveport's Morris Selected as One of Just 15 Afterschool Ambassadors in United States This Year

Victoria Morris Will Work Locally and Across the Country to Make Quality Afterschool and Summer Learning Programs Available to More Students and Families

Washington, DC – The Afterschool Alliance today announced that it has selected Victoria Morris, Director of Programs at Volunteers of America LightHouse Program, to serve as a 2025 Afterschool Ambassador – one of only 15 leaders in the country chosen for the honor this year. Afterschool Ambassadors continue working with local afterschool programs while serving a one-year Afterschool Ambassador term during which they engage with community leaders and policy makers to organize events and in other ways grow support for the afterschool and summer learning programs that students and families rely on.

“We are absolutely delighted that Victoria Morris will serve as a 2025 Afterschool Ambassador for the Afterschool Alliance,” said Jodi Grant, Afterschool Alliance executive director. “This is going to be a pivotal year when we must continue the progress in making afterschool and summer learning programs available to more students, even as federal education spending is under scrutiny. We intend to continue spreading the word that afterschool programs are a wise, essential investment because they keep kids safe, inspire them to learn, and give parents peace of mind that their children are safe and supervised after the school day ends. Morris is exactly the kind of champion we need.”

“I am thrilled and deeply honored to embark on this journey as an Ambassador for the Afterschool Alliance,” Morris said. “With unwavering enthusiasm, I am ready to champion the importance of afterschool programs and work alongside passionate individuals to create lasting change that empowers students and strengthens communities. I’ve seen firsthand the many ways these programs help students succeed and help families overcome challenges. That’s especially important now, with families struggling with high costs and many students disengaged. Many of our students have ground to make up and afterschool programs are uniquely positioned to help them do that. I’m very proud to be part of the afterschool movement and to be a 2025 Afterschool Ambassador.”

The LightHouse, a quality afterschool and summer program, provides academic, social, and emotional support for children, teens, and families in need. At the LightHouse, students receive assistance with homework and a free hot meal. They also participate in academic and cultural enrichment activities, including: ELA, math, STEM, financial literacy, physical fitness, character education, cooking, yoga, drama, and more, many provided through partnerships with other community organizations. This school year, the LightHouse Program operates on six Caddo Parish School Campuses and three community sites where it services over 500 kids in grades K-12. Each year it hosts four Family Engagement Nights, implements Advisory Council meetings with all stakeholders of the Program, publishes quarterly newsletters, and continually brings enrichments to students.

Each Afterschool Ambassador will organize a major event for Lights On Afterschool, the Afterschool Alliance's annual rally for afterschool. Most of the thousands of local Lights On Afterschool events will be on or around Thursday, October 23, 2025.

A public opinion survey released in February found that 85% of voters say they want their newly elected leaders to provide more funds for afterschool programs, including 92% of Democrats, 81% of Independents, 77% of Republicans, and 77% of people who voted for President Trump. The unmet need is great. Some 24.7 million U.S. children not in an afterschool program would be enrolled, if a program were available to them, according to a survey of nearly 1,500 parents commissioned by the Afterschool Alliance in 2022. That is the highest number ever recorded. Unmet demand for afterschool programs is significantly higher among Latino and Black children (at 60% and 54% respectively) than among children overall (49%). Cost is the top barrier to enroll, cited by 57% of parents as a reason for not enrolling their child. Ninety percent of parents rate the quality of the program their child attends as excellent (51%) or very good (39%).

A large and powerful body of evidence demonstrates improvements in grades, school attendance, behavior and more among children who participate in afterschool programs. Researchers have also found that students in afterschool programs are more engaged in school and excited about learning, and develop critical work and life skills such as problem solving, teamwork, and communications.
