This is Afterschool in Massachusetts

Afterschool Alliance

March 2020

After the school day ends in Massachusetts, 1 in 5 kids are alone and unsupervised. These hours—from 2 to 6 p.m.—are the peak time for juvenile crime in Massachusetts according to the latest report by Fight Crime: Invest in Kids, a national organization of law enforcement leaders. Afterschool programs turn that time of risk into opportunity. They keep kids safe and help them realize their full potential. Nationwide, 9 in 10 adults say afterschool programs are important to their community, yet more than 19 million kids are waiting to get in.

Fortunately for the 196,562 children in afterschool programs in Massachusetts, the hours after school are a time when programs help kids get excited about learning, attend school more often, get better grades, and build foundational skills, like communication, teamwork, and problem solving.

Inspiring Learning

66% of Massachusetts parents agree that afterschool programs help their kids get excited about learning.

67% of Massachusetts parents agree afterschool programs can help kids gain STEM-related interests and skills.

68% of Massachusetts parents agree afterschool programs help kids gain teamwork, leadership, and critical thinking skills.

57% of Massachusetts parents agree that afterschool programs help students improve school day attendance.

Keeping Kids Safe and Supported

73% of Massachusetts parents believe afterschool programs reduce the likelihood that kids will engage in risky behaviors.

73% of Massachusetts parents agree that afterschool programs provide access to caring adults and mentors.

Unmet Demand for Afterschool in Massachusetts

For every Massachusetts student in afterschool, 2 more would participate if a program were available.

21st Century Community Learning Center grants are the only dedicated federal funding source that support local communities' afterschool and summer programs. Demand for programs is so great in Massachusetts that 3 out of every 10 applications cannot be funded.

A 2018 Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education evaluation of the state's 21st CCLC programs reported, "data indicates that 21st CCLC programs may help reduce the opportunity and achievement gap as well as contribute to decreasing the high school drop rate." For example, economically disadvantaged participants made statistically significant greater gains in homework, leadership, and engagement than non-economically disadvantaged participants.

21st Century Community Learning Centers

In Massachusetts, 21st Century Community Learning Centers—local afterschool, before-school and summer learning programs that serve students attending high-poverty, low-performing schools—provide services for approximately 18,000 kids and 145 communities.

In a nationwide study of students who regularly attend a Community Learning Center, teachers report that:

1 in 2

improved their math and Language Arts grades

More than 2 in 3

improved their homework completion and class participation

More than 3 in 5

improved their behavior in class

Community Learning Centers bring together diverse partners to meet community needs. A typical program receives $67,000 from partners to supplement its federal funding. Nationwide, partner contributions totaled more than $1 billion between 2006 and 2010.

A Lifeline for Working Families

Families across America report that the gap between work and school schedules can be up to 25 hours per week. Parents lose 8 days of work, and businesses lose up to $300 billion a year due to parental concerns about afterschool care.

- 80% of Massachusetts parents say afterschool programs give them peace of mind.
- 81% of Massachusetts parents agree afterschool programs help them keep their jobs.

Afterschool provides a solid return on investment. Research spanning several states shows that every $1 invested in afterschool programs saves at least $3 by:

- 1 Increasing kids' earning potential
- 2 Improving kids' performance at school
- 3 Reducing crime and juvenile delinquency

"I've very much fed off of the kindness I received from the group leaders at Boys & Girls Club. As a result, I'm probably going to be teaching and combining my love for music with my teaching. Afterschool is about having options and getting to experiment with all those different things to figure out what it is that you really want."
