This is Afterschool in Maryland

Afterschool Alliance

March 2020

After the school day ends in Maryland, 1 in 5 kids are alone and unsupervised. These hours—from 2 to 6 p.m.—are the peak time for juvenile crime nationally according to the latest report by Fight Crime: Invest in Kids, a national organization of law enforcement leaders. Afterschool programs turn that time of risk into opportunity. They keep kids safe and help them realize their full potential. Nationwide, 9 in 10 adults say afterschool programs are important to their community, yet more than 19 million kids are waiting to get in.

Fortunately for the 150,112 children in afterschool programs in Maryland, the hours after school are a time when programs help kids get excited about learning, attend school more often, get better grades, and build foundational skills, like communication, teamwork, and problem solving.

Inspiring Learning

62% of Maryland parents agree that afterschool programs help their kids get excited about learning.

63% of Maryland parents agree afterschool programs can help kids gain STEM-related interests and skills.

62% of Maryland parents agree afterschool programs help kids gain teamwork, leadership, and critical thinking skills.

57% of Maryland parents agree that afterschool programs help students improve school day attendance.

Keeping Kids Safe and Supported

65% of Maryland parents believe afterschool programs reduce the likelihood that kids will engage in risky behaviors.

68% of Maryland parents agree that afterschool programs provide access to caring adults and mentors.

Unmet Demand for Afterschool in Maryland

For every Maryland student in afterschool, 2 more would participate if a program were available.

ENROLLED:
150,112

WAITING:
280,319

21st Century Community Learning Center grants are the only dedicated federal funding source that support local communities' afterschool and summer programs. Demand for programs is so great in Maryland that 1 out of every 4 applications cannot be funded.

A 2013 evaluation by the Baltimore Education Research Consortium of approximately 50 Community School afterschool programs found that regularly attending students were less likely to be chronically absent from school than their non-participating peers. 32% of elementary and 77% of middle school afterschool program participants were less likely to be chronically absent by the end of the school year compared to non-participants.

21st Century Community Learning Centers

In Maryland, 21st Century Community Learning Centers—local afterschool, before-school and summer learning programs that serve students attending high-poverty, low-performing schools—provide services for 9,563 kids and 123 communities.

In a nationwide study of students who regularly attend a Community Learning Center, teachers report that:

1 in 2
improved their math
and Language Arts grades

More than 2 in 3
improved their homework
completion and class participation

More than 3 in 5
improved their behavior in class

Community Learning Centers bring together diverse partners to meet community needs. A typical program receives $67,000 from partners to supplement its federal funding. Nationwide, partner contributions totaled more than $1 billion between 2006 and 2010.

A Lifeline for Working Families

Families across America report that the gap between work and school schedules can be up to 25 hours per week. Parents lose 8 days of work, and businesses lose up to $300 billion a year due to parental concerns about afterschool care.

- 64% of Maryland parents say afterschool programs give them peace of mind.
- 69% of Maryland parents agree afterschool programs help them keep their jobs.

Afterschool provides a solid return on investment. Research spanning several states shows that every $1 invested in afterschool programs saves at least $3 by:

- 1 Increasing kids' earning potential
- 2 Improving kids' performance at school
- 3 Reducing crime and juvenile delinquency

"I've very much fed off of the kindness I received from the group leaders at Boys & Girls Club. As a result, I'm probably going to be teaching and combining my love for music with my teaching. Afterschool is about having options and getting to experiment with all those different things to figure out what it is that you really want."
