This is Afterschool in South Dakota

Afterschool Alliance

March 2020

After the school day ends in South Dakota, 1 in 4 kids are alone and unsupervised. These hours—from 2 to 6 p.m.—are the peak time for juvenile crime in South Dakota according to the latest report by Fight Crime: Invest in Kids, a national organization of law enforcement leaders. Afterschool programs turn that time of risk into opportunity. They keep kids safe and help them realize their full potential. Nationwide, 9 in 10 adults say afterschool programs are important to their community, yet more than 19 million kids are waiting to get in.

Fortunately for the 19,165 children in afterschool programs in South Dakota, the hours after school are a time when programs help kids get excited about learning, attend school more often, get better grades, and build foundational skills, like communication, teamwork, and problem solving.

Inspiring Learning

57% of South Dakota parents agree that afterschool programs help their kids get excited about learning.

56% of South Dakota parents agree afterschool programs can help kids gain STEM-related interests and skills.

64% of South Dakota parents agree afterschool programs help kids gain teamwork, leadership, and critical thinking skills.

49% of South Dakota parents agree that afterschool programs help students improve school day attendance.

Keeping Kids Safe and Supported

70% of South Dakota parents believe afterschool programs reduce the likelihood that kids will engage in risky behaviors.

67% of South Dakota parents agree that afterschool programs provide access to caring adults and mentors.

Unmet Demand for Afterschool in South Dakota

For every South Dakota student in afterschool, 2 more would participate if a program were available.

ENROLLED:
19,165
STUDENTS

WAITING:

21st Century Community Learning Center grants are the only dedicated federal funding source that support local communities' afterschool and summer programs. Demand for programs is so great in South Dakota that 7 out of every 10 applications cannot be funded.

A 2015 report on 21st CCLC programs in South Dakota by the South Dakota Department of Education found that, based on program surveys, participation in programs led to positive changes in students' social behavior, attitudes toward community, attitudes toward school, and academic performance. A 2018 evaluation of 21st CCLC programs by the Black Hills Knowledge Network found strong majorities of sites reported "proficient" or "exemplary" communication with families (82%) and opportunities for youth choice (63%).

21st Century Community Learning Centers

In South Dakota, 21st Century Community Learning Centers—local afterschool, before-school and summer learning programs that serve students attending high-poverty, low-performing schools—provide services for 11,005 kids and 55 communities.

In a nationwide study of students who regularly attend a Community Learning Center, teachers report that:

1 in 2

improved their math and Language Arts grades

More than 2 in 3

improved their homework completion and class participation

More than 3 in 5

improved their behavior in class

Community Learning Centers bring together diverse partners to meet community needs. A typical program receives $67,000 from partners to supplement its federal funding. Nationwide, partner contributions totaled more than $1 billion between 2006 and 2010.

A Lifeline for Working Families

Families across America report that the gap between work and school schedules can be up to 25 hours per week. Parents lose 8 days of work, and businesses lose up to $300 billion a year due to parental concerns about afterschool care.

- 78% of South Dakota parents say afterschool programs give them peace of mind.
- 78% of South Dakota parents agree afterschool programs help them keep their jobs.

Afterschool provides a solid return on investment. Research spanning several states shows that every $1 invested in afterschool programs saves at least $3 by:

- 1 Increasing kids' earning potential
- 2 Improving kids' performance at school
- 3 Reducing crime and juvenile delinquency

"I've very much fed off of the kindness I received from the group leaders at Boys & Girls Club. As a result, I'm probably going to be teaching and combining my love for music with my teaching. Afterschool is about having options and getting to experiment with all those different things to figure out what it is that you really want."
